

Course Description Form

Course number and section: CRWR 160-101

Course Topic: Introduction to Writing Fiction and Drama

Credits: 3

Term: 2022 Winter Term 1

Instructor: Kevin Chong

Course Description (aim for no more than 80 – 100 words for your course description):

This class will discuss narrative writing in the genres of flash fiction, short fiction, playwriting, film-writing, and TV writing. Through in-class lectures, readings, and your own attempts at writing, students will learn the defining characteristics of these narrative forms and gain a broader understanding of techniques to create compelling narrative.

Tentative Reading List: (Be as concise as possible with your reading list, but please also specify the genre of each required text. See sample below)

Brave New Play Rites: 20 Years of Dramatic Engagement, edited by Bryan Wade.

Other: