Course number and section: Germ. 110

Course Topic: Introductory German 2

Credits: 3

Term: 2

Instructor: Martin Blum

Course Description:

German 110 is the continuation of Germ 100. It is intended for students who have successfully completed Germ 100 (or equivalent). The objective of this course is to learn to communicate accurately in a variety of everyday situations, speaking about past events, and to express ideas and hypotheses in German. As in German 100, there will be a cultural component to this course.

Tentative Reading List: Treffpunkt Deutsch. 7th. Ed. Margaret Gonglewski, Beverly Moser, and Cornelius Partsch. Boston: Pearson, 2019.
